  - 26) Support – support services aimed at implementing and Configuring the Solution, rendered by the Service Provider’s dedicated consultant.
2. Any capitalised terms defined herein shall have the same meaning in the entire Service Terms, regardless of their grammatical form, unless the Service Terms stipulate otherwise.

2. Initial Provisions

1. The Service Terms set rules governing the use of the Services rendered by the Service Provider.
2. The Service Terms are available on a webpage: link to the Nutribot Service Terms.
3. The Service Terms are the service terms within the meaning of the Electronically Supplied Services Act.
The Service Terms specify the types and scope of the Services rendered by the Service Provider by electronic means, rules governing the provision of such services, terms and conditions governing the conclusion and termination of electronically supplied service agreements, and a complaint procedure.
4. The Service Provider is the owner of the Website.
  - 1) correspondence address: ALTCONNECT sp. z o.o., ul. Juliusza Słowackiego 33-37, 33-100 Tarnów, Poland,
  - 2) contact details to be used in ongoing communication with the Service Provider:
    - a) e-mail: kontakt@altconnect.pl,
    - b) phone number: +48 884 118 078.

3. Conditions for the Services to be Launched

1. The Services shall be rendered under the Agreement. The Agreement shall be concluded by:
  - 1) registration on <https://signup.nutribotcrm.com>,
  - 2) acceptance of the Service Terms.
2. For the Services to be used, the following technical requirements have to be met:
  - 1) a computer with a Windows or MacOS operating system,
  - 2) a Chrome, Safari, Firefox or Edge browser installed,
  - 3) an add-in installed allowing for displaying PDF files in a browser,
  - 4) an Internet link allowing for smooth web-browsing,
  - 5) a browser has to accept cookies. If an option to save cookies is disabled, this might prevent the use of the Solution.

4. General Service Related Rules

1. The Service Provider undertakes to render the Services for the Client, in compliance with applicable laws and on terms and conditions specified herein.
2. The Service Provider provides access to the Platform, while the Provider sets rules and procedure governing access to the Platform. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for any disruptions in the Services attributable to the Provider.
3. The Service Provider shall endeavour to ensure that the Solution is provided in an uninterrupted manner. Concurrently, the Service Provider reserves the right to downtime, in particular due to periodic maintenance of hardware, system software, application software or Internet service providers' networks, or caused by the Provider's actions or by random events.
4. The Client acknowledges that the performance of the Agreement shall be also affected by legal and factual steps taken by telecom operators. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for any disruptions or interruptions in access to the Solution caused by breakdowns of national, international and interconnection ICT and phone networks, or irregularities attributable to telecom operators.
5. The Service Provider undertakes to render the Services with due care and diligence, in accordance with rules adopted in the IT industry, applicable standards and the state of the art.
6. The Services shall be rendered by the Service Provider remotely, online, through cloud computing, on a SaaS basis.
7. The Client is obliged to ensure the Users' compliance with the Agreement, which shall include respecting the Service Provider's copyrights to the Solution, and shall be liable for their actions or omissions as for its own.
8. The Client undertakes not to copy, change, distribute or otherwise use the Solution in breach of the Service Terms, including not to take any steps that would - even indirectly - lead to the illegal removal or bypassing of the Solution's technical security measures, in particular if this could lead to the unauthorised extension of access to the Solution, and to ensure the Users' compliance with this Section 4.8.
9. The Client that has not previously used the Service Provider's Services can be entitled to the Trial Period. Following the lapse thereof, in order to further use the Services the Client needs to select, and pay for, one of the Subscription Plans available against payment. Otherwise, the User's account will be blocked. If the Subscription Plan is not selected and paid for within four weeks from the end of the Trial Period, the User's account, together with any data, will be permanently deleted.

5. Solution & Solution Configuration

1. Under the Solution, the Service Provider shall provide the Client with access to:
  - 1) CRM/ERP software,
  - 2) the App for Customers,
  - 3) the App for Drivers,
  - 4) the Store,
  - 5) a Customer Panel.
2. The Solution's functionalities are described in the Pricelist. Given that the Service Provider continuously develops the Solution, the Client, under the Agreement, acquires access to the Solution's latest released version, in accordance with the Subscription Plan selected.
3. Unless the Subscription Plan stipulates otherwise, the Client is obliged to independently implement and Configure the Solution, subject to Section 5.4-5 below.
4. Under the specific Subscription Plans, the Service Provider can offer assistance of its dedicated consultant, in a specified number of hours, to help Configure and implement the Solution in order to customise the Services. Such Support shall be provided remotely, by e-mail or teleconference.
5. The User may order the Support services when selecting the Subscription Plan or later via e-mail. For the Support provided via a teleconference, Support hours shall be charged directly during the teleconference. For the Support provided via e-mail, the Service Provider shall inform the User about an expected number of the Support hours required (number of a consultant's working hours). The Service Provider shall start providing the Support services once the User has consented to the expected number of the Support hours required.

6. Against separate remuneration, charged according to the Pricelist, the Client may order additional Support hours, on top of those covered by the Subscription Plan.
7. At any time while the Services are provided, the Client shall have the right to change the subscription Plan, by selecting a relevant option in an administration panel. The Subscription Plan shall be upgraded as of the date when the Subscription Fee for the upgraded Subscription Plan is paid. A price for an incomplete settlement period shall be set proportionally to the time left to the end of a settlement period and a rate specified in the Pricelist. The Subscription Plan shall be downgraded as of the start of the subsequent settlement period.
8. Depending on the Subscription Plan selected, a customised application can be prepared for the Client. A customised application shall be prepared based on the Solution's latest released version. The customised application shall include a logotype and graphic materials provided by the Client. The Parties shall separately agree details pertaining to the creation, configuration and publication of the customised application.
9. The Client undertakes to use the Solution in compliance with the Service Terms exclusively for purposes related to its business, and to timely pay any fees due.
10. The Client shall be exclusively responsible for the content of data stored within the Solution, including in particular for their conformity with applicable laws.
11. Should the Service Provider receive an official notice or reliable information pointing to the illegal nature of any data posted by the Client within the Solution and subsequently stored on the Platform or business related thereto, the Service Provider shall have the right to promptly prevent access to the data. In such a case, the Service Provider shall be in no way responsible before the Client for a potential loss resulting from the prevented access to such data.
12. Under the Solution – depending on the Subscription Plan selected by the Client – the Client might be granted access to the Ingredient Database. The Ingredient Databases are made available under separate licences of their makers to which the Client has to agree to be able to use the Ingredient Database. The content of the licences for the Ingredient Databases available within the Solution is posted on the Service Provider's Website in a 'Ingredients' tab; additionally, the content of the licence for the Ingredient Database selected by the Client will be shared with the User before the Ingredient Database is first used.
13. The Service Provider guarantees the Solution's availability at the level of 99%.
14. The Client is obliged to specify service terms, including those pertaining to services supplied electronically through the Store and the App for Customers, by introducing the Rules. The Client has to adjust the Rules to requirements set by applicable laws, business run by the Client, and terms and conditions of access to the Solution stipulated in the Agreement. The Client shall be exclusively responsible for the content of the Rules and for services provided under the Rules. The draft Rules are available on the Service Provider's Website in a 'Documents' tab. The Client acknowledges that the draft is only an example and has to be adjusted to the aforementioned requirements. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for the compliance of the Rules with the aforementioned requirements, for the Rules introduced by the Client and for services provided under them.
15. Payment transactions between the Client and its Customers made through the Store or the App for Customers shall be serviced by the Payment Service Provider, selected by the Client from the Payment Service Providers available on the market where the Client operates. A list of the available Payment Service Providers can be consulted on the Service Provider's Website in a 'Payment Methods' tab. The Client may select only one Payment Service Provider. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for an agreement between the Payment Service Provider and the Client; in particular, the Client is obliged to observe service terms applicable at the given Payment Service Provider, and the Payment Service Provider may charge the Client with a commission on its services, according to its rates.

6. Security Rules & Personal Data

1. Any data entered by the Client and its Customers to the Solution, i.e. the Customers' data, recipes, order data, food reviews, news or surveys, shall remain the property of the Client.
2. The Service Provider undertakes not to use any data processed through the Solution for any illegal purpose or for a purpose other than the Services.
3. Following the end of the Services provided (e.g. as a result of the termination of the Agreement), the Service Provider undertakes, at the request of the Client, to share with the Client the current copy of a database of the Customers and orders in the CSV/XLS format, within 14 (fourteen) days from the end of the Services provided and from the payment of all fees due to the Service Provider, at the latest. Should any part of the fees remain outstanding, the Service Provider shall be no longer bound by the obligation specified in the preceding sentence upon 30 (thirty) days following the end of the Services provided. In such a case, the Service Provider shall have the right to irretrievably delete the Client's data processed through the Solution.
4. Under the Solution, a security backup will be made on a daily basis, which shall be then kept by the Service Provider for seven days.
5. The Parties agree that Section 6.1 and 6.3 shall not apply to the Solution's configuration data, i.e. in particular the configuration of diets, pricelists, rebates, additions, operation history, menu, types of meals, delivery zones, drivers, PUSH notifications sent and settings.
6. In order for the Service Provider to duly fulfil its obligations under the Agreement and exclusively to the extent necessary for the Service Provider to fulfil such obligations, the Client – in the capacity of a controller of personal data, including the Customers' personal data – allows for the subprocessing by the Service Provider of the personal data, through the Solution, to the extent and on terms and conditions set forth in the Subprocessing Agreement.

7. Liability

1. Neither Party shall be liable for the non-performance or undue performance of this Agreement caused by the Force Majeure.
2. Neither Party shall be liable for the non-performance or undue performance of any obligations under the Agreement, which has been related to the non-performance or undue performance by the other Party of its obligations under the Agreement, including the untimely fulfilment of contractual obligations.
3. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for any losses resulting from: hardware defects, improper operation or malfunction of third-party software, defective operation of an ICT network, improper use of the Solution, wrong data input or interference with the Solution or databases by any third party.
4. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for rules and manner of the Platform's operation, including the loss of any data stored on the Platform. The Client acknowledges that any claims on this account should be directed at the Provider. The Service Provider shall prepare a security backup in accordance with Section 5 hereof.
5. The Service Provider represents that the Ingredient Database and any data included therein come from a third party and have been developed independently of the Service Provider. In view of the above, the Service Provider represents, and the Client acknowledges, that:
  - 1) for some food products included in the Ingredient Database, some nutrients might be missing;

- 2) prices of products generated by the Solution might be incomplete and are for reference only (they can differ from the prices of products purchased by the Client and they can change over time – the Service Provider does not update them); therefore, for a foodcost to be calculated properly, the Client should update the prices on its own;
  - 3) allergens, tags, own measurements, thermal treatment coefficients and losses can differ depending on a manufacturer, specific products and treatment processes applied at the Client; therefore, the Client should verify the aforementioned data on its own and adjust them as needed;
  - 4) caloric content and nutritional qualities of meals are calculated as the sum of caloric content and nutritional qualities of their components, and are for reference only; the actual caloric content and nutritional qualities of the meals can differ, depending on thermal and mechanical treatment processes and other factors, as well as due to data in the Ingredient Database for some products and/or nutrients being incomplete.
6. The Service Provider shall be in no way responsible for the Ingredient Database and for particular data from the Ingredient Database; in particular, the Service Provider shall not be responsible for the correctness, completeness and reliability of the Ingredient Database and any data included therein, or for any losses resulting from, or related to, the use of the Ingredient Database by the Client.
  7. The Service Provider has prepared the Solution with due care and diligence, applying its best knowledge, and has tested it with its tools; however, the Service Provider shall not be responsible for any losses resulting from, or related to, the use of the Solution, including but not limited to the fact that the Service Provider shall not be responsible for any losses related to disruptions in the Client's operation, malfunction or disruptions in the operation of hardware, or loss of data. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for the faulty operation of the Solution if this results from actions of the Client, the Customers or any third party.
  8. The Service Provider provides the Solution without any warranties (either expressed or implied), including but not limited to a warranty of merchantability, warranty of fitness for a particular purpose and warranty for the Solution to be free from defects or errors. Liability under a statutory warranty, or a warranty, shall be excluded.
  9. Liability for lost profits shall be excluded.
  10. Any liability of the Service Provider towards the Client for any losses resulting from, or arising in connection with, the Agreement or the Solution shall be limited to the equivalent of a monthly net fee for access to the Solution under the Agreement in a month when the loss was incurred. The above liability limitation shall apply both to tort and contractual liability.
  11. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for any consequences of using the Solution and any losses caused by disruptions to access to the Services caused by the non-fulfilment of obligations by any third party.
  12. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for the consequences of sharing the Solution access data of the Users and of the Client's Customers with any unauthorised party.
  13. The Service Provider shall not be responsible for the content and performance of agreements between the Client and the Payment Service Provider or for the content and performance of any Ingredient Database licence agreements.

8. Subscription Fee

1. For the Services provided during the Agreement term, except for the Trial Period, the Client shall pay the Service Provider the Subscription Fee whose amount shall be calculated according to the Pricelist, in line with the Subscription Plan selected.
2. The Subscription Fee shall be collected in advance, for a settlement period specified in the Subscription Plan. The Subscription Fee is non-refundable.

3. When starting to render the Services, the Service Provider shall provide the Client with the current version of the Pricelist.
4. Having selected the Subscription Plan, the Client is obliged to provide data required to make automated payments by card. Payments will be made by debiting the Client's payment card. The Parties may individually agree on a different form of payment for the Subscription Plan.
5. The Subscription Fee shall be charged in settlement periods covered by the Subscription Plan, on the same day of a month when the Agreement was concluded. In some cases, a settlement date may be changed (e.g. if the relevant day falls on a date outside a given month, e.g. 29 February, or if debiting a card on a given day has proved impossible).
6. Once the Subscription Fee has been paid, in compliance with the provisions above, the Service Provider shall issue an invoice. The Client consents to e-invoices, to be sent to an e-mail address indicated by the Client.
7. The Service Provider reserves the right to amend the Pricelist, in particular the Subscription Fee and the Subscription Plans available. The Client shall be notified of any amendment to the Pricelist. The amendment shall apply to the Client as of a settlement period directly following the one when the Service Provider informed the Client thereof. The Pricelist shall be amended in a manner prescribed for an amendment to the Service Terms.
8. If any Subscription Fee is outstanding, the Service Provider shall have the right to charge default statutory interest applicable in business dealings.
9. If the Subscription Fee is not paid within two weeks from the start of a new settlement period, an account shall be blocked. If the overdue amounts remain outstanding and the Services are not re-launched, the User's Account, together with all the data, including the Configuration, shall be deleted after four weeks from the date when the Services were blocked.
10. The Subscription Fee does not cover the costs of sending e-mails and text messages to Customers in the Messages module. Email and text messages sent are charged separately at the end of the monthly settlement period based on the unit price of the message and the number of messages sent.

9. Commission

1. On each payment of the Customer charged by the Client, the Service Provider shall charge a commission, in an amount stipulated in the Subscription Plan.
2. Depending on technical capacities and the Payment Service Provider selected, the commission may be charged directly on transactions processed by the Payment Service Provider or together with the Subscription Fee through payment by card, in an amount established through data collected by the Solution.
3. The commission collected by card payment is always collected on a monthly basis, regardless of the selected Subscription Plan period.
4. To the commission, Section 8 hereof shall respectively apply.

10. Payment Related Complaints

1. The Payment Service Provider shall be exclusively responsible for any payment related complaints.
2. Details concerning the filing of any payment related complaints are available on the Payment Service Provider's webpage.

11. Legal Reservations

1. The Service Provider represents, and the Client acknowledges, that the Solution is provided on a SaaS basis and under no circumstances its provision shall result in the transfer of intellectual property rights, including proprietary copyrights, or in the granting of a licence for its elements by the Service Provider to the Client. In view of the above, the Client acknowledges that under the Agreement it shall not be granted exclusivity rights for the use of the Solution; in particular, the Solution may be also provided to the Service Provider's other clients running business similar to that of the Client, with the caveat that the Solution will be customised, which shall include visual identification.

2. Terms and conditions of using the App for Customers shall be specified in 'Nutribot App Licence Terms and Conditions' available in the App. Terms and conditions of using the App for Drivers shall be specified in 'Nutribot Drivers App Licence Terms and Conditions' available in the App. These documents will be made available by the Service Provider in such a way so as to enable any individuals who use the aforementioned App to read them.
3. When providing the Services to the Customers, the Client is obliged to promote a positive image of the Service Provider and its brand, Nutribot, in particular it should aim at increasing the number of positive opinions about them, and avoid taking up any actions or failing to take up any actions which could undermine their reliability. The Client may not take any steps which could -even indirectly - result in breach of the terms and conditions of the licence referred to in Section 11.2 hereof. Should the Client become aware of any existing or probable events of default, the Client is obliged to promptly inform the Service Provider thereof.
4. In connection with the transfer of the Ingredient Database, the Client shall not acquire any rights to the Ingredient Database, except for the right to use it under the Solution.
5. The Parties agree that following the termination of cooperation under the Agreement the Ingredient Database shall not be released to the Client.

12. Complaints

1. The Client may file complaints related to:
  - a) an error in the Solution's latest released version,
  - b) missing access to the Solution.
2. The complaints may be filed by e-mail, via a service desk or by post to the Service Provider's address specified in Section 2.4.
3. The right referred to above shall not apply to:
  - 1) third-party software cooperating with the Solution,
  - 2) errors attributable to reasons outside the Solution,
  - 3) versions of the Solution other than the latest one,
  - 4) use of the Solution not consistent with recommendations and requirements specified in its documentation,
  - 5) modifications or consequences of modifications in the Solution made by the Client or by any third party.
4. The complaints shall be considered within 14 days. A reply to a complaint shall be sent to the Client in the same manner as the complaint has been made or according to the Client's instructions in this regard.

13. Threats

1. As any other Internet user, the Client is exposed to online threats. The main threat for each Internet user involves potential infection of their ICT system with software created mainly with a view to causing harm, such as viruses, bugs or Trojans. In order to avoid threats related thereto, the Users and the Clients are recommended to install on their computers connected to the Internet in order to use the Solution an anti-virus programme and firewall, and update them on an ongoing basis.
2. Further, the Service Provider underlines that particular threats related to the use of the Solution involve actions by hackers aiming at hacking the Solution.

3. The Service Provider emphasises that it applies cutting-edge safeguarding technologies to mitigate the risk referred to in Section 13.1-2; however, there exist no solutions that would completely and fully protect against the adverse actions described.

14. Final Provisions

1. The Service Terms shall enter into force as of 1 October 2023.
2. The Agreement shall be concluded for a definite period equal to a settlement period as specified in the Subscription Plan. Charging a subsequent payment shall result in the Agreement term being extended.
3. Regardless of the above, in case of the gross negligence of any material provisions of the Agreement committed by the Client, including the breach of rules governing the use of the Solution or any infringement of copyrights to the Solution, the Service Provider has the right to terminate it with immediate effect.
4. The Service Provider has the right to refuse to extend the Agreement term in the following cases:
  - 1) threat to the Service Provider's image resulting from the Client's action or failure to act;
  - 2) justified suspicion of the breach of the Solution's security measures, attempted reverse engineering, or running business competitive to the Service Provider's services,
  - 3) breach by the Client of generally applicable laws,
  - 4) breach of the Service Terms,
  - 5) justified suspicion of fraud against the Customers,
  - 6) the blatantly low quality of services rendered by the Client, supported by the Customers' opinions or notifications.

In such a case, the Agreement shall be terminated as of the end of a settlement period.

5. The Service Provider has the right to amend the Service Terms, Subscription Plans and Pricelist. The Client shall be notified of any such amendments, at an e-mail address indicated at registration. The Service Terms or Pricelist shall be amended as of the start of a new Agreement term at the beginning of the subsequent settlement period. If the Client does not consent to an amendment to the Service Terms or Pricelist, it has the right to decide not to renew the Agreement, by way of submitting a relevant notification to that effect; in such a case, the Agreement shall expire upon the lapse of a settlement period. Any amendment to the Service Terms or Pricelist shall not affect the Services rendered prior to the date of their entry into force.
6. Subject to other provisions of the Service Terms, any statements addressed to the Service Provider shall be made in the form of a document, otherwise being null and void, to e-mail addresses: kontakt@altconnect.pl.
7. A change to the Service Provider's contact details shall not represent an amendment to the Service Terms, and shall be effective as of when the Client is notified thereof.
8. These Service Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the Polish law.
9. Any disputes under the Service Terms or agreements concluded with the Client under the Service Terms shall be settled by the Polish court competent for the Service Provider's registered office.
10. Any notices addressed to the Client shall be directed to an e-mail or correspondence address indicated at registration.
